DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 47, 49-61, 63-81 and 83-105 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the source includes one selected from RF plasma source and a microwave plasma source, does not reasonably provide enablement for any other sources such as thermal plasma source as disclosed in KITAYAMA et al. (5,785,824), a reference cited by Applicant. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 101-105 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over TANIMURA et al. (6,228,331). TANIMURA's invention is directed to an ozone supplying apparatus. TANIMURA discloses for example in Fig. 2 and col. 4, lines 39-44 a quencher of the type recited. The difference between TANIMURA and the above claims is the intended use of the quencher. The subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified TANIMURA's teachings because it has been held on the intended use of a device that "apparatus claims cover what a device is, not what a device does", Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Bausch & Lomb Inc., 15 USPQ 2d 1525.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 47-100 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-54 of U.S. Patent No. 6,372,097. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are now broader than the patent's claims and recite in the independent claims a source for providing (or producing) at least a mixture of O and O₂ species. However, upon examining the meaning of the term "plasma source for providing ... species" in the patent claim, the term "plasma source" in the patent claim and the term "the source for providing ... species", they are an equivalent term because both of the sources are a plasma source which includes a R.F. plasma source or a microwave plasma source. As such, the claims in the application reciting the term "a source ... species" define an obvious variation of an invention claimed in the patent.
